April, and was killed leading his men on the 27th May last. His Brigadier General writes; - "He was the bravest of the bravest; a man in whom I had complete confidence, and I have seldom met a man with more commanding power, greater determination or self confidence."

Major in 1914, and went to the front with his Battalion in 1915, where he speedily rose to the command of the 32nd Battalion. He held for nearly three years. He was invalided home last winter suffering from neuritis but returned to the front last time threw his heart and soul into the Volunteer movement, one who, when war was declared, sacrificed everything to save the German menace. Probably no sacrifice would have been considered too great for 'Bertie' Gibson to make, and it would be impossible to exaggerate the loss of this splendid, virile, versatile; and patriotic Hexhamonian."

For a number of years he captained the Northumberland County Hockey XI, and was a well-known lawn tennis player. Deploring his loss, the Hexham Herald says: "Everybody who knew Bertie 'Gibson realized that he was a born soldier, who in peace time threw his heart and soul into the Volunteer movement, one who, when war was declared, sacrificed everything to save the German menace. . . . Probably no sacrifice would have been considered too great for 'Bertie' Gibson to make, and it would be impossible to exaggerate the loss of this splendid, virile, versatile; and patriotic Hexhamonian."
