Court roll, Manor of Lowick, 6 Nov. 1709

The Court Roll of the Manor of Lowick
1709

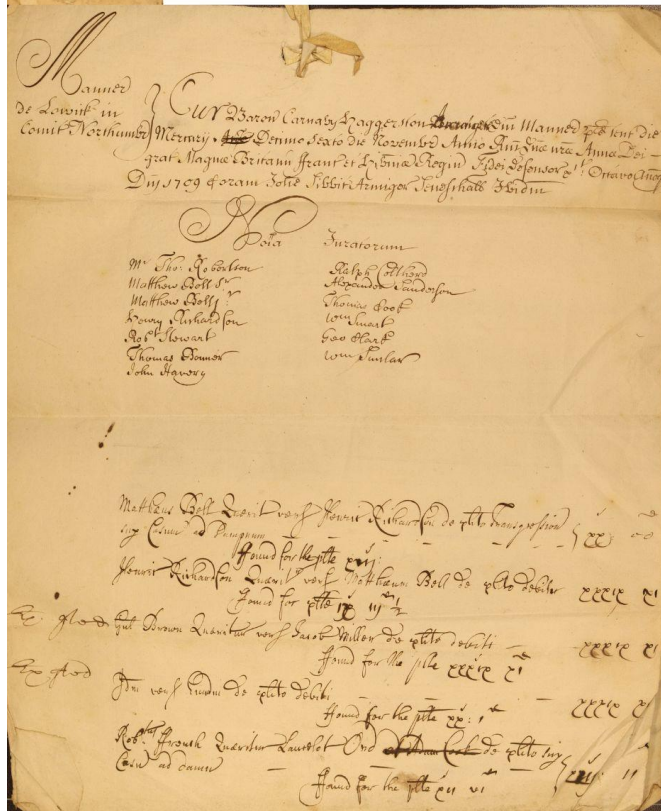

¹ This word appears to have been written over 'Armiger'

² The crossed out word here is unclear

³ In using 'Juratorum' (names of the sworn Jurors), the scribe has departed from the other documents in this series where 'Juratoris' is used (names of the Jury)

⁴ The scribe has mistakenly used the genitive case here ('of the same')

⁵ The scribe appears to have indicated that this name should be extended; we are unsure of the declension, so have assumed second.

⁸ This appears to have been written over another name
⁷ The scribe has left this word unfinished

⁸ Probably his mark
⁹ His mark
¹⁰ Probably his mark
¹¹ This surname has possibly been written in by someone else and should be 'Sinclair'. There is already a William Smart in this list of signatures, whose signature is recognisable from other documents in this series, and there is a William Sinclair in the list of jurors at the beginning of this document whose signature or mark does not appear.
